Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. What is the difference between restoration and conservation? Restoration often involves more intervention, aiming for a visually complete repair. Conservation focuses on stabilization and preventative measures, preserving the object's existing state.

Analogies abound. Think of Restauro as a expert surgeon, precisely mending a injured structure, respecting its original structure and role. Or consider it akin to a patient gardener, nurturing a sensitive plant, providing the required assistance to guarantee its continued development.

4. How much does Restauro cost? The cost varies dramatically depending on the object's complexity, the extent of damage, and the materials used.

Unlike simple mending, Restauro emphasizes reversibility. Every intervention should be noted thoroughly, allowing for future modifications or even the removal of the intervention itself. This idea reflects the dynamic knowledge of conservation ethics, which prioritize the lasting health of the artifact over immediate aesthetic improvements.
